Overview

Both beginners and established artists are welcome. This winter's art retreat will focus on art as a spiritual practice. We will offer a wide variety of art projects to work on, allowing time for reflection with one another around art's influence on one's life of faith. Each participant will be able to work on a number of projects, all materials supplied by Pyoca. On Sunday everyone will work on a combined project that will later be displayed at Pyoca.

Art Instructor – Nancy Peterson

Nancy is an established artist who has primarily taught throughout Indianapolis and Carmel. She is a longtime member of the Pyoca community, having volunteered for over twenty years as the head of arts and crafts for Camp Friendly, a ministry of Orchard Park Presbyterian Church in Carmel, IN. Nancy loves teaching and is looking forward to leading her first art retreat at Pyoca this spring.

Art Practices

Participants of any level are welcome. Expected art practices will include: mandalas, collage, developing prayer journals, bead work, prayer bracelets, and more. Participants are encouraged to work on projects that speak to them and their current spiritual journey.

Our philosophy is that art is meant to speak through us in the way that the Holy Spirit moves in us, so with guidance from Nancy, each person is able to follow where the Spirit is leading them. There is no expectation of perfection; we merely seek Sabbath and connection.

Registration

Registration fees are per person, covering meals, lodging, and all program activities for the weekend. Fees vary upon lodging:

- Dorm - $225, 8-10 per room
- Double - $275, 3-4 per room
- Single - $325, limited space available

Minors will need to fill out additional medical/consent and parental/guardian agreement forms that will be held confidentially on file.

Lodging

All lodging is retreat-style, with bunk beds in each room. Linens are not provided by Pyoca, so be sure to bring your own with you. Indicate any roommate requests you may have as you fill out your online registration.
